FOUND HER INTERESTING MAN

Young Lady Who Had Built Castles in the Air Somewhat Rudely Brought Down to Earth.

Friends of a Worcester young woman are forcing her to submit to considerable good-natured joking about her acquaintance with a youth whom she described as "the most interesting man she ever met." The girl was introduced to him at a recent social gathering and before they had talked together long he had her attentively listening to an account of his travels throughout the country, and his experiences in many different cities. He also alluded to his college life, and before they parted the girl had the idea that she had become acquainted with the son of a millionaire, or some dignitary.

She talked freely about him to her acquaintances, although not mentioning him by name. One day while with a young woman friend, she passed him on the street, and was surprised to see him bow to her companion.

"Do you know him?" asked the girl, very much surprised.

"Sure," the other replied. "He used to be our paper boy. He is now trying for a job on the police force."

The girl was surprised into admitting that he was "the interesting man," and what followed indicated it would be many days before she heard the last of it.—Worcester Post.

FOR ELIMINATION OF SMOKE

Firing Must Be Systematic and Properly Done If Best Results Are to Be Attained.

Smoke is caused by failure to burn the combustible gases that arise when fuel is exposed to the flame. The editor of Power describes these gases as 'a complex mixture of various hydrocarbons, from some of which carbon separates on cooling in the form of lampblack or soot. The smokier fuels also give off tarry vapors, which condense and help to gather the carbon particles into flakes or 'smuts.'

"For the burning of these gases as they are evolved from the coal, three conditions must exist: Air must be supplied above the fuel bed, the temperature must be high enough to insure ignition, and there must be time or space for combustion before the mixing currents of gas and air are cooled by flowing into or among the tubes of the boiler."

Firing coal in large quantities produces so much gas that neither air supply nor combustion space is great enough for its burning. Therefore coal should be put on in small quantities at frequent intervals.

Leaning Tower of Pisa.

This celebrated bell-tower is situated in the city of Pisa, Italy, and was built during the twelfth century by the German architect, William of Innsbruck. It is cylindrical in shape, 50 feet in diameter, 172 feet high, and leans about fourteen feet out of the perpendicular. It is entirely of white marble, and consists of seven stories, divided by rows of columns. The top, which is surmounted by a flat roof and an open gallery, commanding a splendid view of the surrounding country is reached by 300 steps. The tower was not originally intended to lean but the foundation settled more on one side than on the other until it reached the present inclination, which it has maintained with scarcely any perceptible increase for hundreds of years. The upper part of the structure was built in a manner to counteract in part the inclination; and the grand chime of bells, seven in number, of which the largest alone weighs 12,000 pounds, is mounted with reference to counteract this fault still further.

Insatiable.

George A. Birmingham (Canon Hanay), the versatile Irish clergyman, playwright and novelist, was talking to a New York reporter about the American business man.

"I'll tell you a story," he said, "which hits off the American business man well."

"A wife, still young, turned from the window of her sumptuous nineteenth-story apartment and said to her husband:

"George, ten years ago you promised me that when you made a million you'd retire from business, and then we'd travel and enjoy life."

"Here she began to cry.

"'You've got your million now!' she sobbed. 'Why do you still keep on working?'

"George, as he hurried into his overcoat, growled:

"'Ah, that's just like you—never satisfied!'"

Unhappy Bachelors.

The Moors in Morocco maintain that a married man is blessed in this life and goes to Paradise after death, whereas a grown-up man who dies a bachelor does not find the road to Paradise, but will rise again with the devil.
